Observational Training Agreement

In addition to providing mental health services to adolescents and young adults, Doorways provides training to interns, and/or behavioral health technicians who are currently studying to become counselors, social workers, marriage/family therapists, and/or psychologists or who have finished their studies and require additional training. Part of this training includes sitting in on therapy sessions and observing therapists/psychologists at Doorways. If permitted to sit in on your or your minor child's session, the provider will be observing the therapist and his/her therapeutic interventions and not the responses or reactions of you or your minor child. Allowing another provider to sit in on your sessions is completely optional and consent can be revoked at any time. If another provider is planning to observe one of your sessions, you will be made aware beforehand and given the opportunity to allow or not allow for this to occur.

Please choose one option below:

I, _____ (client and/or guardian name), approve having an intern or behavioral health professional sit in and observe me or my minor child's therapy sessions.

OR

I, _____ (client and/or guardian name), do not approve an intern or behavioral health professional to sit in and observe me or my minor child's therapy sessions.
